

ORDINANCE NO. ORD-2021-014

ORDINANCE OF THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SANTA ROSA TO AMEND CITY ZONING CODE CHAPTER 20-31, DENSITY BONUS AND OTHER DEVELOPER INCENTIVES TO BE CONSISTENT WITH STATE GOVERNMENT CODE SECTION 65915, DENSITY BONUSES AND OTHER INCENTIVES - FILE NUMBER REZ21-003

WHEREAS, in 2016 the City Council accepted the Housing Action Plan to address ongoing unmet local housing demand and to implement the City's General Plan Housing Element; and

WHEREAS, the Housing Action Plan's first program directed staff to prepare an amendment to Zoning Code Chapter 20-31 Density Bonus and Other Developer Incentives (Ordinance) to implement the State's density bonus provisions in Government Code Section 65915 Density Bonus and Incentives (State Law) and to provide a supplemental density bonus; and

WHEREAS, on January 8, 2019 the Council amended the Ordinance with density bonus provisions consistent with State Law in effect at that time and with a local supplemental density program; and

WHEREAS, State Law has been amended since the Ordinance was last amended by the Council, most notably on January 1, 2021 when Assembly Bill 2345 (Gonzalez, September 28, 2020) took effect to further incentivize the construction of housing units by mandating the following provisions in State Law:

- a. The maximum density bonus increased from 35% to 50% above the maximum general plan land use density and the unit set-aside percentage at which developers can earn density bonus is reduced.
- b. One-hundred percent lower income housing development is allowed a 100% density bonus, consisting of 80% lower income units and 20% moderate income units, four concessions or incentives, and an automatic 33-foot height increase.
- c. Developers receiving four incentives are limited to one development standard waiver unless the City authorizes more.
- d. Maximum parking ratios for certain projects within ½ mile of a major transit stop are reduced further.
- e. Adjustment to the supplemental density bonus to accommodate increased State maximum density bonus and still maintain the 100% maximum density bonus housing development may earn with a supplemental density bonus.
- f. Clarification of certain terms including "unobstructed access" to a major transit stop; and

WHEREAS, on August 12, 2021, the Planning Commission of the City of Santa Rosa held a public hearing to consider the proposed Ordinance amendment and, after hearing public testimony adopted a resolution recommending the Council amend the Ordinance to maintain consistency with State Law as amended by AB 2345 (Gonzales) based on the following findings:

- a. The proposed Zoning Code amendments are consistent with the goals and policies of all elements of the General Plan, and any applicable specific plan in that it maintains consistency with State Density Bonus Law and the supplemental density bonus provisions promote infill affordable housing development within the City's Priority Development Areas, and within General Plan land use designations that have been identified as appropriate for higher density housing; and
- b. The proposed amendment would not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or welfare of the City in that it would amend the Zoning Code to maintain consistency with State Density Bonus Law, and provide an incentive through a supplemental density bonus toward the production of affordable housing to meet the City's housing needs; and
- c. The proposed amendment is internally consistent with other applicable provisions of this Zoning Code; and
- d. The City adopted a negative declaration for the current Density Bonus Ordinance on January 8, 2019 and pursuant to CEQA Guidelines Section 15162, the proposed Density Bonus Ordinance amendment will not require subsequent environmental review for the following reasons:
 1. The amendments to the State Density Bonus provisions of the ordinance, which are required to comply with the new State Density Bonus Law, as amended by AB 2345, and the amendments to the Supplemental Density Bonus provisions to complement State Density Bonus Law will not increase total density that may be achieved by housing developments eligible for a supplemental density bonus. Also, all density bonus projects subject to the amended Density Bonus Ordinance will continue to be constrained by infrastructure capacity as well as public service (e.g., fire protection) health and safety standards. Therefore, the amendment will not result in new development that will, directly or indirectly, increase cumulative residential development beyond what was previously evaluated by the negative declaration; and
 2. There are no new significant environmental effects associated with the City's Density Bonus Ordinance in that the amended ordinance does not change any supplemental density bonus provision that could expand cumulative residential development in the City beyond which is analyzed by negative declaration. It will not expand nor intensify local development allowed by the current supplemental density bonus program. Furthermore, the amended ordinance does not contain any local density bonus provision that will expand cumulative residential development beyond which is allowed by the State Density Bonus law.

THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY OF SANTA ROSA DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City Council finds, based on evidence and records presented, that amending Chapter 20-31, Density Bonus and Other Developer Incentives of the Santa Rosa City

Code, as follows, is required for consistency with State Government Code Section 65915, Density Bonuses and Other Incentives; and

The Council further finds and determines that:

- A. The proposed amendment is consistent with the goals and policies of all elements of the General Plan, and any applicable specific plan in that further implement the goals and policies of General Plan related to housing and land use by providing clarity and consistency with the State and local regulations; and
- B. The proposed amendment would not be detrimental to the public interest, health, safety, convenience, or welfare of the City in that the amendments support approved General Plan Housing Element goals and Zoning Code land uses and regulations. As such, the proposed amendments will not result in any substantive changes to the General Plan Housing Element and Santa Rosa Zoning Code; and
- C. The proposed project has been reviewed in compliance with the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and pursuant to CEQA Guidelines Section 15162, the proposed Density Bonus Ordinance amendment will not require subsequent environmental review for the following reasons:
 - a. The amendments to the State Density Bonus provision of the ordinance, which are required to comply with the new State Density Bonus Law, as amended by AB 2345, and the amendments to the Supplemental Density Bonus provisions to complement State Density Bonus Law will not increase total density that may be achieved by housing development eligible for a supplemental density bonus. Also, all density bonus projects subject to the amended Density Bonus Ordinance will continue to be constrained by infrastructure capacity as well as public service (e.g., fire protection) health and safety standards. Therefore, the amendment will not result in new development that will, directly or indirectly, increase cumulative residential development beyond what was previously evaluated by the negative declaration; and
 - b. There is no new significant environmental effect associated with the City's Density Bonus Ordinance in that the amended ordinance does not change any supplemental density bonus provision that could expand cumulative residential development in the City beyond which is analyzed by negative declaration. It will not expand nor intensify local development allowed by the current supplemental density bonus program. Furthermore, the amended ordinance does not contain any local density bonus provision that will expand cumulative residential development beyond which is allowed by the State Density Bonus law.
