Chapter 7-30 POTENTIALLY DANGEROUS AND VICIOUS ANIMALS

Article I. Potentially Dangerous and Vicious Animals

7-30.010 Purpose—Exemptions.

The purpose of this article is to establish a program for the control of potentially dangerous and vicious animals that incorporates Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 31601) of Division 14 of the Food and Agricultural Code. This article does not apply to commercial kennels, pet fancier facilities, veterinarians, or to dogs while utilized by the Sheriff, any Police Department or any law enforcement officer in the performance of police work. (Ord. 3796 § 4, 2006)

7-30.015 Definitions.

The definitions set forth in Section 7-04.010 shall apply to this chapter. (Ord. 3796 § 4, 2006)

7-30.020 Filing petition with court—Hearing.

(A) If an animal regulation officer has investigated and determined that there exists probable cause to believe that an animal is potentially dangerous or vicious, the City shall petition the superior court for a hearing for the purpose of determining whether or not the animal in question should be declared potentially dangerous or vicious. A proceeding under this section is a limited civil case.

(B) The City shall notify the owner of the animal that a hearing will be held by the court at which time such owner may present evidence as to why the animal should not be declared potentially dangerous or vicious. The owner of the animal shall be served with notice of the hearing and a copy of the petition, either personally or by first-class mail to the owner's last known address.

(C) Pursuant to Food and Agricultural Code Section 31621, the hearing shall be held promptly within no less than five working days nor more than 10 working days after service of notice upon the owner of the dog. A jury shall not be available. The court may find, upon a preponderance of the evidence, that the animal is potentially dangerous or vicious and make other orders authorized by this article and State law.

(D) The court shall decide all issues for or against the owner of the animal even if such owner fails to appear at the hearing. If the court rules the animal to be potentially dangerous or vicious, the court shall establish a time schedule to ensure compliance with this article and State law, but in no case more than 30 days subsequent to the date of the court's determination or 35 days if the service of the judgment is by first-class mail.

(E) The determination of the court shall be final and conclusive upon all parties. (Ord. 3796 § 4, 2006)

7-30.030 Impoundment of animal pending hearings.

(A) If upon investigation it is determined by an animal regulation officer that probable cause exists to believe an animal is potentially dangerous or vicious and poses an immediate threat to public safety, then the officer may seize and impound the animal pending the hearings to be held pursuant to this article. The owner of the animal shall be liable to the division for the costs and expenses of keeping the animal, if the animal is later adjudicated potentially dangerous or vicious.

(B) When an animal has been impounded pursuant to subsection (A) and it is not contrary to public safety, the Poundmaster shall permit the animal to be confined at the owner's expense in a commercial kennel or veterinary facility approved by the Poundmaster. (Ord. 3796 § 4, 2006)

7-30.040 Mitigating circumstances.

No animal may be declared potentially dangerous or vicious if the animal was protecting or defending a person within the immediate vicinity of the animal from an unjustified attack or assault. No animal may be declared potentially dangerous or vicious if an injury or damage was sustained by a domestic animal which at the time the injury or damage was sustained was teasing, tormenting, abusing or assaulting the animal.

(B) No animal may be declared potentially dangerous or vicious if the injury or damage to a domestic animal was sustained while the animal was working as a hunting animal, herding animal or predator control animal on property of, or under the control of, its owner, and the damage or injury was to a species or type of domestic animal appropriate to the work of the animal. (Ord. 3796 § 4, 2006)

The animal may be, but is not required to be, removed from the list of potentially dangerous animals prior to the expiration of the 36-month period if the owner of the animal demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Poundmaster that changes in circumstances or measures taken by such owner, such as training of the animal, have mitigated the risk to public safety. This sign shall be prepared and posted by the Poundmaster.
