OBJECTIVES

- B. Newly-acquired or developed park or recreation facilities be named immediately after acquisition or development to ensure appropriate public identity.
- C. No park site or recreation facility shall be named for a living person, unless the site or facility has been donated by an individual, or a substantial donation has been made by an individual or organization to acquire a park site or recreation facility.
- D. When appropriate, a park or recreation facility can be named in honor of a person, posthumously, when such person has made major contributions to the community, the country, or the field of recreation and parks.
