6. STAFF UPDATES

Community Empowerment Plan

1. The Marylou Lowrider Patrol Car: car is now available for the project build and a timeline and plan has been developed with the Sonoma County Lowrider Council that outlines each club's specific project. Enterprise Rental Car donated a stereo to the project and the City is also working with the Latino Peace Officer's Association to secure additional funding. The car will be named The Marylou after fallen police officer Marylou Armer and her family has given the City permission to dedicate the car to her memory.

2. Multicultural Roots Project: during the month of March, stories will be focused on women for Women's History Month. May will highlight youth community leaders and June will highlight our LGBTQ community members.

3. Engagement HQ Platform (Let's Connect SR): online engagement platform is here. The Office of Community is working on building the site and will be available to do things like surveys, mapping, polls and more. Staff will do a demonstration to the CAB once the site goes live.

Open Government Update

1. City Council held a study session on the initial implementation of the Open Government Ordinance on March 23. The presentation is available on the City of Santa Rosa's YouTube channel. The presentation includes challenges and success of the ordinance implementation, including translation of all Council agendas in Spanish and Spanish-language interpretation available at all Council meetings.
2. The Citizen Guidebook to Participation in Local Government is in the process of being developed with the help of the Empowerment Subcommittee.

Personnel

Community Engagement Coordinator, Danielle Garduno, announced that she will begin law school in June 2021 and would like to discuss with the CAB potentially moving the monthly meeting date to a different day of the week so that she can still serve as staff liaison.

Public comment: none.
