Dear Mr. Meyers:

I am writing on behalf of a new buyer of the property located at 1355 Kowall Lane, Santa Rosa, AP#10-510-18. This is a 5000+ sq. ft. warehouse presently used by the California Youth Soccer Association. My client will be using the building to store antique cars. Two of your junior planners indicated that your determination of whether this is a continuation of the current usage (commercial warehouse), is necessary. My client has a copy of the use permit application and will present this to you if you deem it is necessary. Your prompt reply to our inquiry would be most appreciated as the property is in escrow with a close of escrow in the near future.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Wood

I have reviewed your letter and if the property is to be used for the storage of automobiles it must be made to conform with the appropriate sections of the Uniform Building Code which cover areas where automobiles are stored or parked. This is different from a general warehouse and more restrictive. You may want to have your client contact us directly so that we can go over the code conditions and compare them to the existing conditions.

Thank you for this opportunity to assist you.

Re: 1355 Kowall Lane

S' Rosa Ord. #2302 Review

Dear Mr. Myers:

9820 OK when this work is done
W

At the request of Cynthia Wood of Frank Howard Allen Realtors, I reviewed the above referenced building for conformance to the City of Santa Rosa ordinance #2302, Division 7, Article IV. This Building is one story wood frame with a conventional slab on grade foundation. The perimeter stud walls are sheathed on the exterior with a combination of either 1x vertical boards with batts, 1x horizontal boards or T 1-11 type plywood sheathing. The interior side of these stud walls is generally sheathed with gyp. board or wood paneling. Interior walls are generally sheathed with gyp. board.

The roof is built up roofing, with gravel, over 1x straight sheathing.

It is my understanding that the intended use is storage of antique automobiles and I would classify the building as type V construction with 'B-1' occupancy in conformance with the 1985 U.B.C.

A structural pest control inspection report was made by Hinkley & Gordon of Novato (#880063).

It is my opinion that, with the listed modifications, this building is in substantial conformance with the intent of ordinance #2302, Division 7, Article IV.

Required Modifications:

- 1) The north wall is less than 20 feet to the property line. A one-hour rated wall is required. A sketch is attached of one method of providing a one-hour rating.

KTC

- 2) Some sections of perimeter walls are not sheathed on the inside. Provide either 1/2" gyp. board sheathing with 5d nailing at 7" o/c to studs, sill, and top plate or 3/8" or 1/2" plywood with 8d nailing at 6" edges, 12" field.
- 3) All interior stud walls should be sheathed similar to item #2 above.
- 4) Perform work required by the structural pest control.
- 5) In conjunction with item #4 above, attempt to determine the cause the cracked slab adjacent to and along the stepped back east perimeter wall. This crack should be sealed to prevent entrance of moisture and/or insects.
- 6) Ventilation requirements can be designed by the H.V.A.C. contractor.

As I explained to Mr. Roger Brannan, the buyer, conformance to Santa Rosa ordinance #2302, does not make the building "earthquake proof" but rather provides a higher degree of protection of life than may have been provided by building codes, or lack of, prior to 1958.

Very truly yours,

Kenneth T. Campbell
