

Martin Zúñiga Public Art Proposal Update and Funding Recommendation

Meredith Knudsen Arts and Culture Manager

August 3, 2026

Project Overview

Las SinCuenta Monarcas a collaborative public art installation with Artist Martin Zúñiga and youth from Latino Service Providers featuring 50 monarch butterflies. The monarch butterfly serves as a symbol of transformation, migration, resilience, and cultural identity.

Goals

- Celebrate and elevate Latino voices and cultural expression
- Engage local artists, students, and community organizations
- Activate public spaces through temporary, accessible artworks
- Expand participation across diverse communities
- Engagement with landscape and public space
- Emphasis on scale, repetition, and visual impact

Artist Martin Zúñiga
presents

Las SinCuenta Monarcas

A sequence of monumental monarch butterflies woven through the trails of HOWARTH PARK, SANTA ROSA

Together We Celebrate
Transformation, Imagination, and the Power of Collective Vision

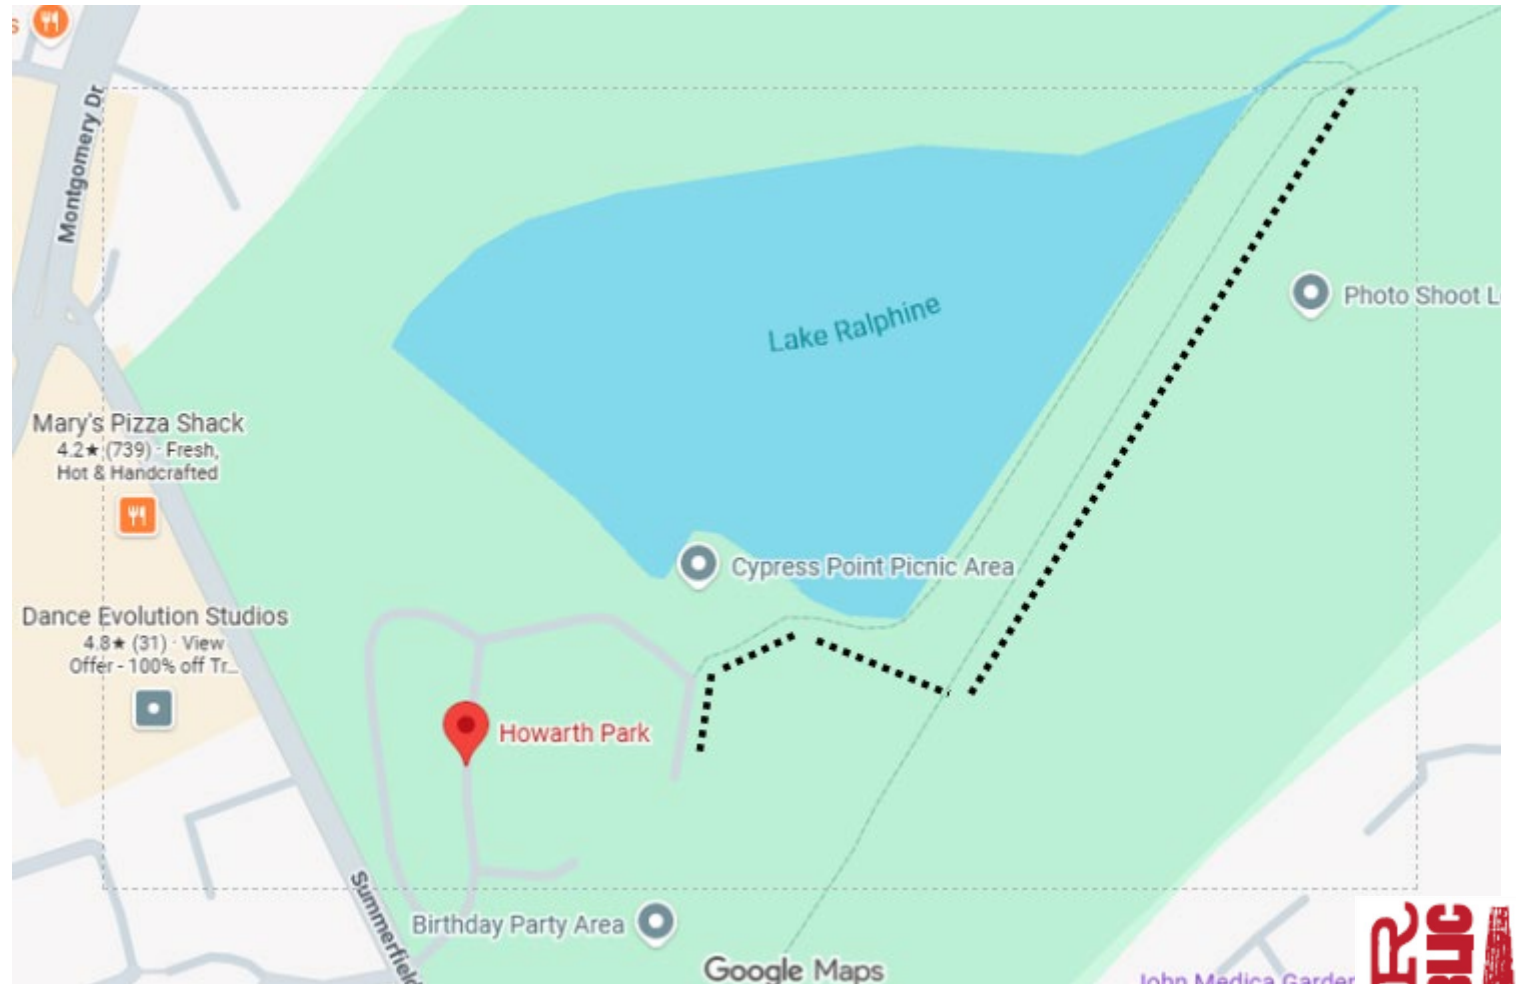

ADOPT A BUTTERFLY Your support helps fund youth employment, mentorship, and free public art experiences for all ages.

GET INVOLVED
DONATE

Latino Service Providers
Lead Artist Martin Zúñiga
(707)-974-3900
admin@latinoserviceproviders.org

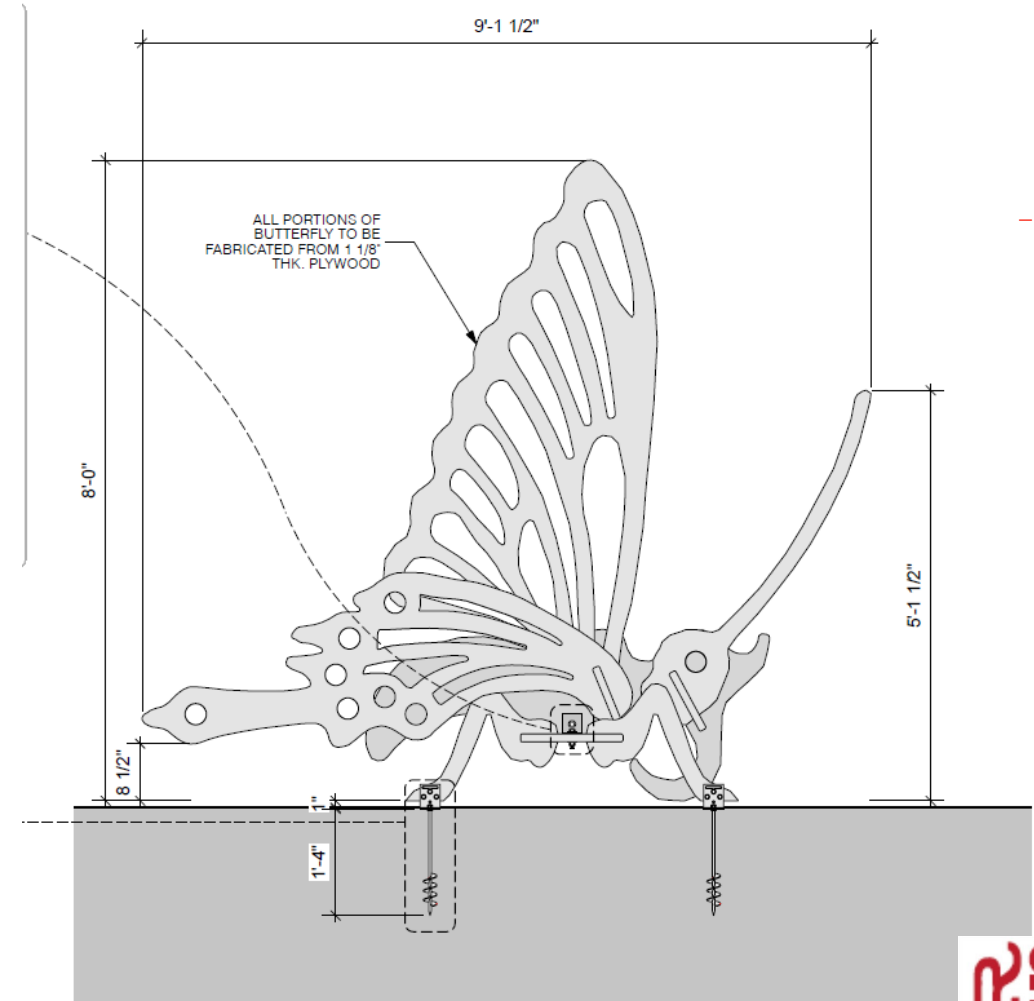

Location: Howarth Park trail

Current Status

- APPC approved $10,000 in project funding (April 6, 2026).
- SRJC is providing in-kind wood fabrication assistance.
- Stamped drawings received
- Donations being received through Latino Service Providers, fundraiser July 2026
- Additional funding is needed to complete the project.

Recommendation

Approve contract amendment of $10,000 for a contract total of $20,000 to Martin Zúñiga for Artist Services Contract for

Las SinCuenta Monarcas