ATTACHMENT TO APPEAL OF ZONING ADMINISTRATOR DECISION OF JANUARY 25, 2023

1650 WEST STEELE LANE, SANTA ROSA, CA 95403APN: 041-042-012FILE NO. PRJ21-010

The appellants, Charles M. Schulz Creative Associates, Children's Museum of Sonoma County, the Redwood Empire Ice Arena ("Snoopy's Home Ice") and the Charles M. Schulz Museum and Research Center ("Appellants"), do hereby appeal the Zoning Administrator's decision issued on January 25, 2023 ("Zoning Administrator Decision") regarding the following:

1. The Zoning Administrator's adoption of an addendum to the certified North Santa Rosa Station Area Specific Plan Environmental Impact Report (State Clearinghouse No. 20111022034) for the W. Steele Lane Apartments Project located at 1650 W. Steele Lane, Santa Rosa, APN 041-042-012 (File No. PRJ21-010); and
2. The Zoning Administrator's approval of a minor conditional use permit to allow a supplemental density bonus and minor design review of the construction of a 36-unit multifamily residential development for the property located at 1650 W. Steele Lane, Santa Rosa, APN: 041-042-012, File No. PRJ21-010.

This appeal is based on the City's approval of much-reduced parking for the project. The Appellants look forward to welcoming their new neighbors, and hopefully new members. However, the project approval ignores significant traffic and parking compaction already present in the area. Failing to provide adequate parking for the new residents will exacerbate the existing safety issues in the area, and poses a great likelihood of worsening traffic. Simply put, the residents will need to put their cars somewhere, and the project as proposed ignores this reality and the impact it will pose on the neighborhood.

The traffic and parking study conducted by W-Trans demonstrates quite clearly that "the proposed parking supply would be deficient (pursuant to City standards) by 16 spaces." (Julia Walker, W-Trans; Traffic Study for the 1650 West Steele Lane Project (2020); p. 5.) (emphasis added) While the report goes on to explain that the project's proximity to public transportation renders it eligible for parking reductions, the sterile application of standards and codes fails to account for the conditions in the area.

Any on-site inspection of traffic levels for the 2020 report would have occurred at the height of COVID-19 related business restrictions. The Children's Museum, Schulz Museum and Ice Arena were all closed for significant periods of time in order to comply with County Health regulations. Traffic counts during that time period would, as a result, be significantly diminished from traffic under current conditions and fulltime operations. Adding vehicles driven by residents looking for somewhere to park will only serve to increase the dangerous conditions in the area.

The report refers to existing housing units on Meadowbrook Court as a basis for comparison to the proposed project. Here again the report misses the mark. Every curb space on Meadowbrook is already occupied by the existing residents. With the introduction of new housing units, and the cars that necessarily accompany the appellants' soon-to-be neighbors, the project as proposed will present these new neighbors with an untenable question: where to put their cars.

The Applicant incorporates so-called "unbundled" parking options for their would-be lessees. Surely, a prospective tenant given the option to pay less rent will take advantage of that economic opportunity. However, not paying for a parking space does not equate to not having a vehicle or vehicles to park. So, these tenants will be forced to seek out street parking in a neighborhood already bereft of it. Or, and more likely, residents will park across the street in one of the Appellants' parking lots. While the Appellants are eager to serve their new neighbors, it is unacceptable that the City would impose the risk of additional pedestrian crossings of West Steele, a "major collector" according to the WTrans report. (Walker; p.1)

Appellants acknowledge the limitations imposed on the City following the passage of $\mathrm{AB}-2079$. What bears further review, however, is the City's ability to impose minimum parking requirements where, as here, failure to do so would have a substantially negative impact... on residential or commercial parking within one-half mile of the proposed housing development. Government Code §65863.2. All of the Appellants are located within one-half mile of the proposed project, and indeed, the Ice Arena and Schulz Museum Appellants are directly across the street from the proposed project. The visitors and employees of the Appellants' various organizations utilize the entirety of existing parking at their locations. The project as proposed will have an immediate impact on the parking availability at the Appellants' locations, which the City has thus far ignored.

The Appellants thus appeal the Zoning Administrator's approval of the addendum to the North Santa Rosa Station Area Specific Plan EIR, and the Zoning Administrator's approval of a minor conditional use permit, File No. PRJ21-010, and request that the project be conditioned to require construction of minimum parking pursuant to City code.

> Sincerely,
