MAN 2 MAN: Our Mission

The Mission of Man 2 Man – Urban Youth Advocate is clear and powerful: We're a nonprofit dedicated to breaking the cycle of Father Absence in marginalized families across the SF Bay Area. We equip young men and Fathers with culturally relevant knowledge, essential skills, vital resources, and unwavering support to help them not just survive, but truly thrive.

Our program offers a diverse range of life skills that nurture emotional, mental, physical, and spiritual growth. By achieving these goals, we empower our clients to emerge as leaders within their families and communities, driving positive change for generations to come.

The Problem

Our urban communities continue to suffer disproportionately from the social ills of our time.

More than 20 million children live in a home without the physical presence of a father. Millions more have dads who are physically present, but emotionally absent.

Know the Symptoms of the Fatherless

Studies have shown that when a child is raised with a father in the home he or she is:

Four times less likely to live in poverty

Seven times less likely to become pregnant as a teen

Two times as likely to complete high school

Less likely to have behavioral problems

Less likely to face abuse and neglect leading to psychological trauma

Less likely to abuse drugs and alcohol

Less likely to go to prison

Less likely to suffer obesity

Less likely to commit a crime

MAN 2 MAN IS STRENGTHENING FAMILIES ONE FATHER AT A TIME

Man 2 Man is The Solution

We focus on the father as a solution, not an accessory to the family dynamic. Engagement is not an ideal, but a tool to be used to reduce poverty and increase home life stability. With your help today, we can bring the father back into the equation as a support and protective source. Children with an engaged father are...

Physically healthier

More financially secure

Better achievers in

More accountable

Less impacted by negative judicial engagement

Feel more secure and confident

Man 2 Man is a special place for fathers of color to learn the skills needed to be the foundation for their children, families, and communities.

The IPV Program is 52-session educational training on the causes of domestic violence and ways to prevent it. For court mandated participants as well as self-enrolled clients.

San Quentin State Prison

We currently teach our “Last Time In” program in San Quentin State Prison. The program is a culmination of four core curriculums.

- Intimate Partner/Domestic Violence Prevention
- Emotion Management
- Conflict Management
- Fatherhood 101- Inside Out Dad

These curriculums are designed to increase accountability, enhance violence prevention, and reduce recidivism by empowering incarcerated men with the culturally relevant knowledge, skills, and real-world strategies to master their emotions and deftly navigate tense situations, ultimately steering them towards peaceful, non-violent resolutions.

This program dives deep into the realm of emotions, honing critical skills like self-awareness, self-regulation, and empathy. It's all about empowering participants to recognize that they hold the reins to their choices, and they're accountable for the consequences, especially how they impact others. These techniques pave the way for our ultimate objectives: molding men within the prison system into resilient, non-violent role models and preparing them to be leaders for their families and communities upon release.

WHAT OUR PARTNERS SAY ABOUT OUR PROGRAM

© 2022 Man 2 Man - UYA

We give great thought to choosing the partners with whom we do this work, and we couldn't be happier to have engaged with Man2Man beginning in 2021. The lived experience of the team from Man2Man, their intense long-term study of many of the key issues we face, knowledge of the specific needs of our community--and ability to resonate and connect, has made our work together vitally important.

Man2Man provides foundational life skills that apply equally to all who seek greater awareness on the difficult path to self-sufficiency, but most especially for our young men of color raised in a community drowning in violence, trauma, and societal neglect. Many of these skills are simply overlooked when families require wholehearted focus on skills required to simply survive for another day, week or year.

I have seen the benefits from Man2Man's "men and emotions," and "conflict management" curriculum--not only to the roughly 125 attendees thus far, but to our own program outcome goals as well. We have no doubt that the invaluable Life skills and Fatherhood training from Man2Man will enhance our own success, by further empowering our constituents on the path to stable housing, employment, family environments, and self-sufficiency. I strongly recommend Man2Man Urban Youth Advocate and look forward to our continued work together in service to the vast unmet needs of our community.

Donald Frazier – Executive Director

We want to thank Man 2 Man for providing a critical service to our clients for over a year now. Your approach to help each client develop the necessary communication and cognitive skills for healthier interactions has been highly successful. We have witnessed a positive change in how the clients engage with each other and their instructors. All clients look forward to the lessons and eagerly participate in the activities.

Jenny Linchey, PAL program manager and Probation Specialist with Alameda County Probation Department wrote to say, “All 9 students who received conflict resolution instruction from Mr. Perrilliat said they liked the lessons a lot, on a post-program survey. Specific feedback from students included the fact that the lessons made them think more about the consequences of their decisions. It is clear from watching Mr. Perrilliat’s classes that he can connect with and inspire his audience so that his messages resonate on a personal level. His instruction in conflict resolution is important for people of all ages, but particularly teenagers and young adults who are still figuring out how to express themselves and relate to others.”

Man 2 Man’s Conflict Management classes is having a significant impact on all our participants, and, in turn, they have shared about improved conditions and relationships at home, with friends, and professionally.

We look forward to continuing our partnership and commitment to build healthier, wealthier and safer communities for youth and adult underserved populations.

Harold Pearson has been SPAAT's Chief Executive Officer since 2008. He oversees the organization's strategy. Under his guidance, Bay Area student-athletes have secured millions of dollars in academic and athletic scholarships.

Harold draws on his own experiences as a highly recruited athlete, community college transfer and a Division-1 football player to address the challenges faced by student-athletes adjusting to life from high school to collegiate level and beyond.

He is a graduate of the 2021 Man 2 Man program. During the program he has learned how to intentionally and effectively nurture relationships with his children. The program has also increased his advocacy skills for young men across the Bay Area.

Mr. Pearson is currently working on creating structures that allow for the Man 2 Man program to be replicated in Oakland Public schools.
